As part of the “Keeping the Dream Alive - a celebration of the life of Martin Luther King, Jr.” observation, St. Ignatius will present the documentary Cracking the Codes: The System of Racial Inequity as the springboard to a Racial Justice Dialogue Event. Film segments are braided with facilitated dialogue. People leave asking new questions and are inspired to engage in change.

From Shakti Butler, the director of The Way Home: Women Talk About Race in America and Mirrors of Privilege: Making Whiteness Visible, this film focuses on how the system of inequity is embedded into our society through various factors such as history, culture and identity. Stories of racial inequity are told through voices of racial justice leaders including Amer Ahmed, Michael Benitez, Barbie-Danielle DeCarlo, Joy DeGruy, Erika Huggins, Humaira Jackson, Yuko Kodama, Peggy McIntosh, Rinku Sen, Tilman Smith and Tim Wise.

This event begins at 9 AM and concludes at noon. There is no charge; however, due to curriculum ordering, reservations are required. To reserve your spot go to http://st-ignatius.net/cracking-the-codes/.

Cracking the Codes: The System of Racial Inequity is sponsored by the St. Ignatius Catholic Community Racial Justice Forum.
